

Client perspectives on working with lean in construction – where to focus?

Henrik L. Bang, director
Danish Association of Construction Clients

LIPS Conference, Lean Construction – DK
Konventum, Helsingør, 13 September 2016

Focus areas of professional clients

Value / Cost

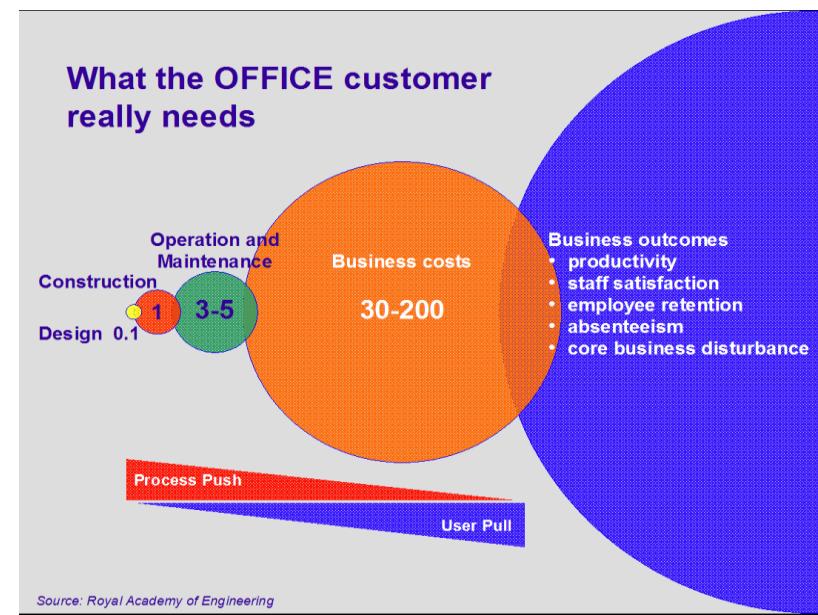

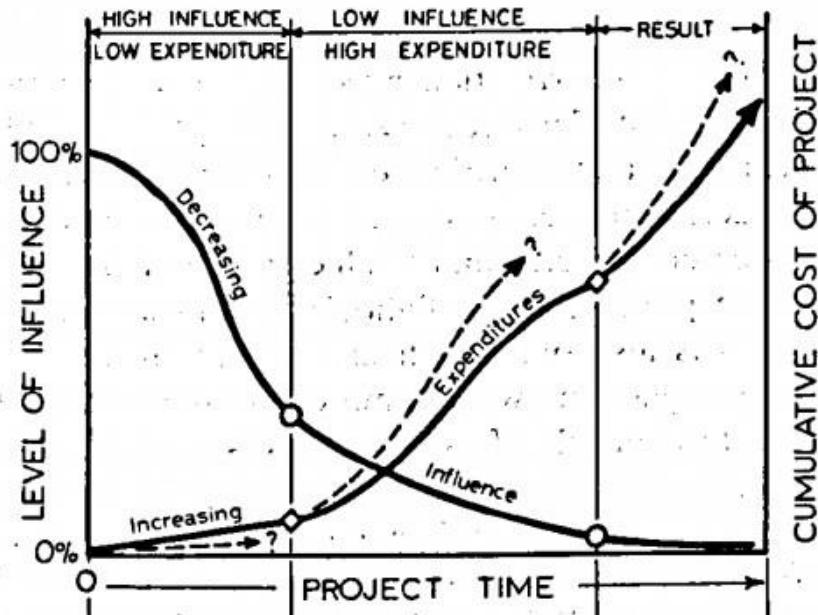

The right building vs. building right

Efficacy vs. efficiency

Users vs. industry

Do client needs and lean construction focus match?

- Client need for developing better business cases – the early phases!
- Client need for improving procurement strategies – the early phases!
- Most lean construction focus on (on-site) construction processes – the later phases?

What is so special about public sector clients?

- Political decision making!
- Empowered users!
- Procurement regulation
- Accountability – and the press...
- Success more difficult to measure?

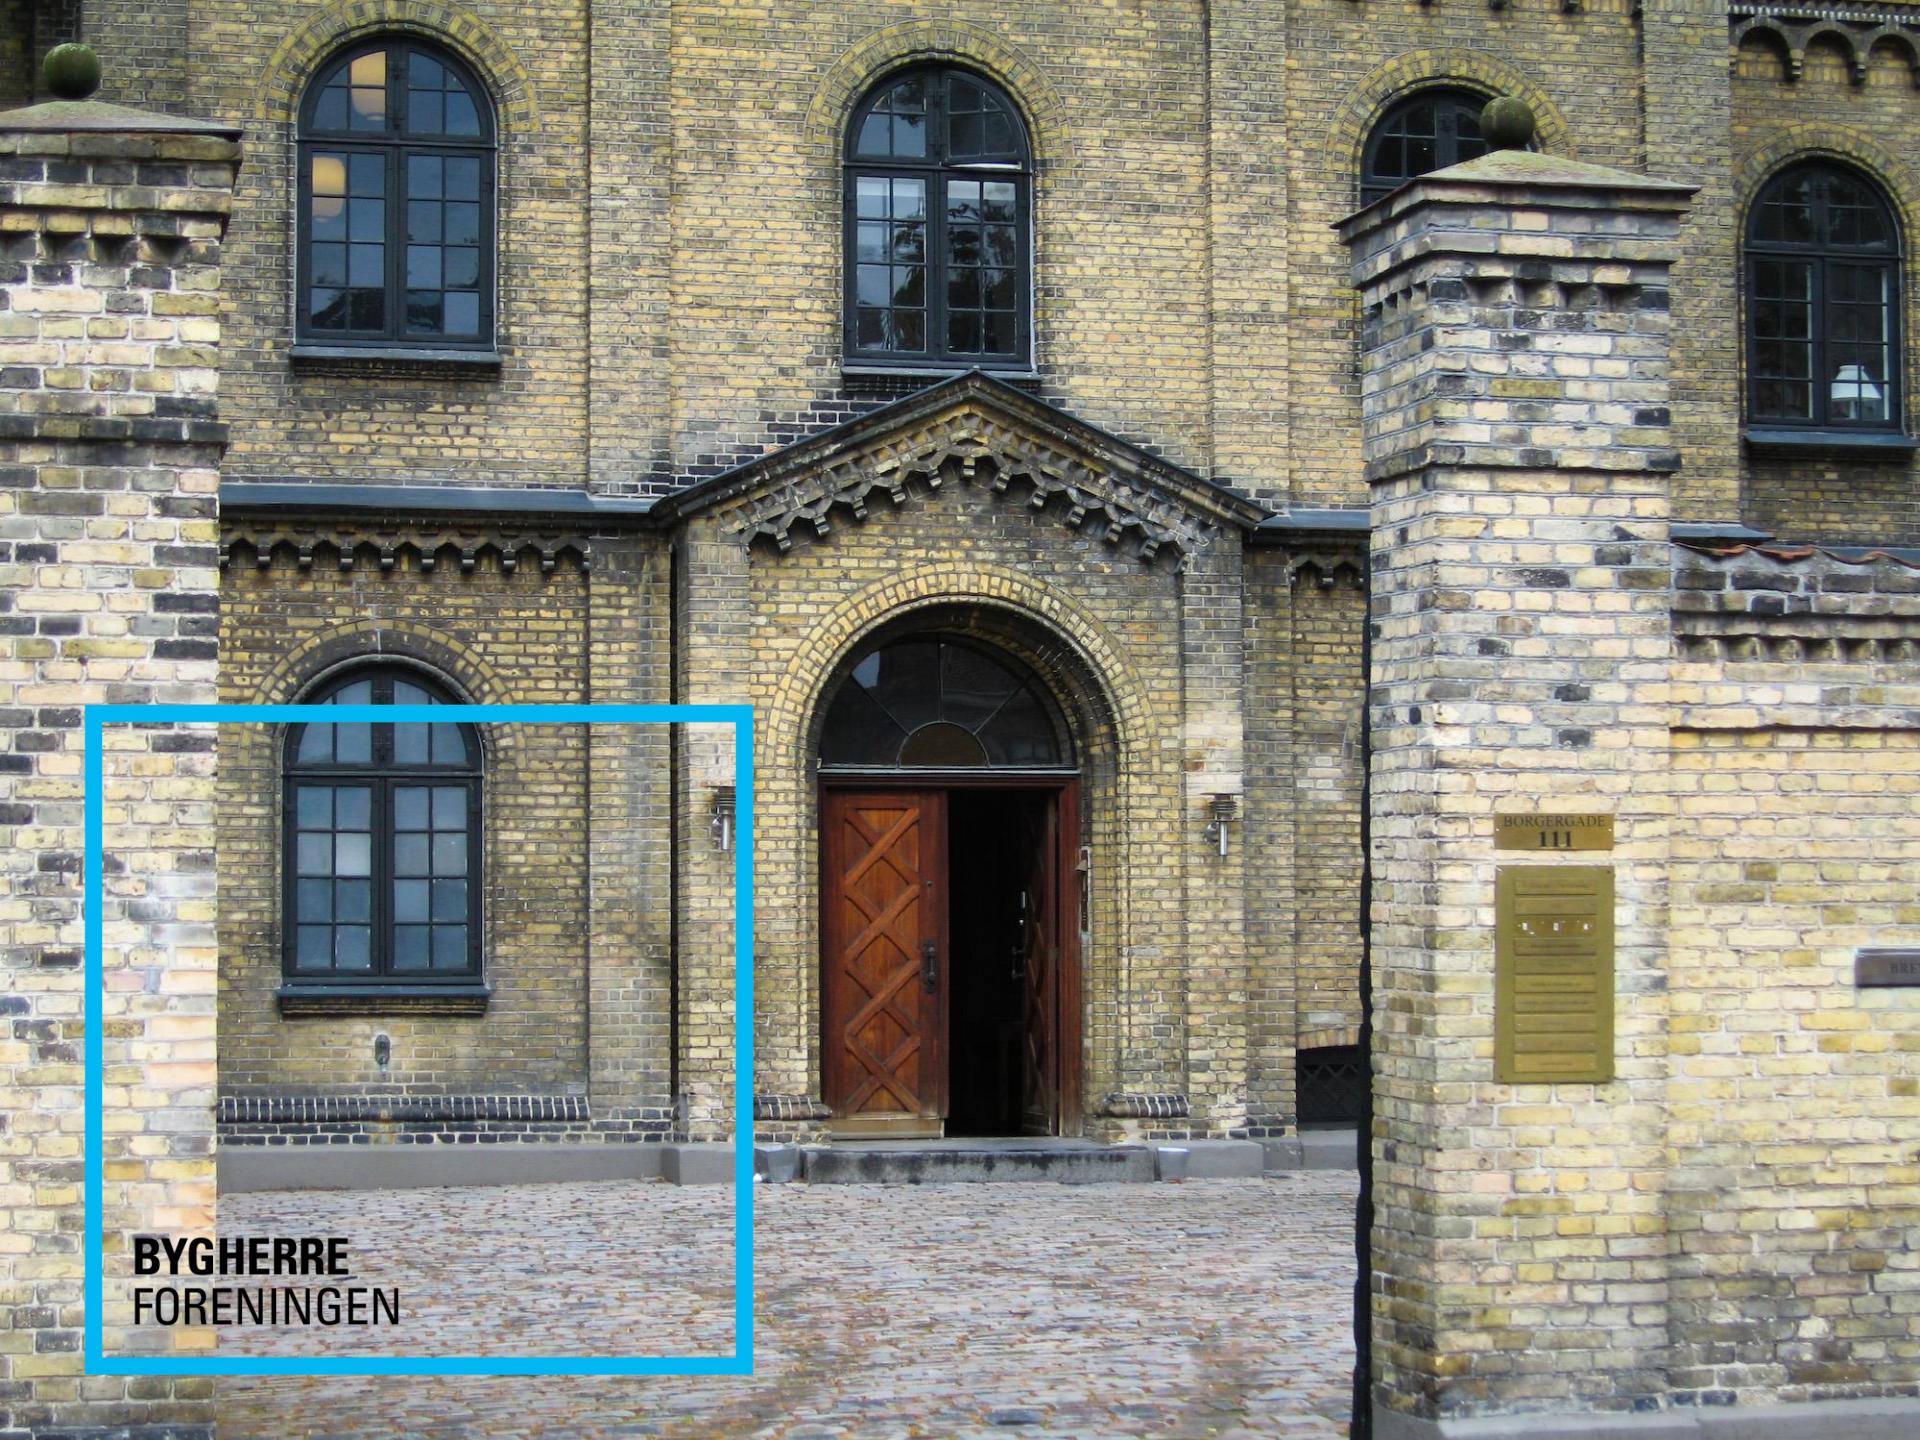

Clients need the potential of lean construction – lean construction needs the support of clients!
